DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 13-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Schleiss et al. (U.S. 6,633,782).

Schleiss et al. teach a control device for control of plant equipment (see col. 3, lines 50-56) and a maintenance tool operatively coupled to the control device via a communication network for performing maintenance of the control device (see col. 3, line 60 to col. 4, line 3), power plant maintenance system further comprises a remote maintenance device for executing a similar function to that of the maintenance tool (see col. 4, lines 4-42), wherein the remote maintenance device provides a maintenance service of the transmitting of report data prepared by a maintenance service person, describing the history of revision of a control parameter or a control circuitry, to the maintenance tool through the communication network (see col. 14, lines 30-65); and the remote maintenance device is connected to the maintenance tool through the communication network (see col. 5, lines 13-26 and col. 19, lines 57-65), and said remote maintenance device causes remote-controlled transmission of data to said maintenance tool (see Fig. 2 and col. 6, line 16 to col. 7, line 20).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 6/16/05 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Schleiss does not teach that the remote maintenance device causes remote-controlled transmission of data to said maintenance tool.

Examiner disagrees with the Applicant argument because Schleiss teaches in Fig. 2 and col. 6, line 16 to col. 7, line 20 that the remote maintenance device causes remote-controlled transmission of data to said maintenance tool.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
